In school chess tournaments, many players end up losing due to poor time management, frequently running out of time in important situations.

I got this problem statement from a personal connection. When I was younger I used to go to school chess tournaments as well and I always ended up losing due to my poor time management. My problem statement describes how time management is important in chess, especially in tournaments where there is a time limit for players. Many players end up losing since they take too long to make the moves.
